

McLaren has won the 2024 Formula 1 Constructors' Championship

McLaren are Formula 1 Constructors' Champions for the first time in 26 years after beating Ferrari to win the season-ending Abu Dhabi Grand Prix.

McLaren achieved a historic milestone by winning the 2024 Formula 1 Constructors' Championship, ending a 26-year drought since their last victory in 1998. This success highlights McLaren's return to prominence after years of development and strategic improvements. The victory was sealed at the Abu Dhabi Grand Prix, where Lando Norris claimed first place, helping McLaren finish 14 points ahead of Ferrari. Norris, who consistently delivered podium finishes throughout the season, capped the championship-winning year with this decisive victory, further solidifying his role as a team leader and a strong contender in F1.
