NORRIS HOLDS OFF PIASTRI TO WIN AUSTRIAN F1 GP

McLaren FORMULA 1 TEAM

Lando Norris triumphed at the Austrian Grand Prix following a thrilling battle with the other McLaren of Oscar Piastri, while there was plenty of action unfolding behind them. The Austrian Grand Prix provided a thrilling weekend of action for Round 11 of the 2025 F1 season. Lando Norris bounced back from his Canada crash to seal victory, coming out on top after another nail-biting scrap with McLaren team mate Oscar Piastri.

The pair reset for another round at the Red Bull Ring, with Norris clearly meaning business as he established a comprehensive gap over his team mate in Qualifying, but Piastri was far from fazed, declaring he was “not planning on finishing third”.
