

Lando Norris Crowned 2025 Drivers' World Champion!

Lando Norris secured his first-ever World Drivers' Championship yesterday at the season-finale in Abu Dhabi, securing third place which was just enough to edge out his rivals by two points. The 26-year-old Briton delivered a composed, fearless performance under pressure, ending a 17-year title drought for McLaren and becoming Britain's newest champion. Emotions ran high as he took to the podium, celebrating a dream come true and thanking his team and supporters for an unforgettable season.
